

Randi Mann, WHNP-BC, NCMP

nurse practitioner and owner of Wise Woman
Wellness, De Pere

Sure, Randi loved working for Bellin Health System and the Women's Specialty Care OB-GYN clinic. But she couldn't ignore the voice in her head saying, You can do more. Her drive to impact women's lives on a deeper, more personal level led her to open Wise Woman Wellness two years ago.

For her bravery to go it alone, she tributes her mother. For her appreciation of bucking convention, she looks to doctors Christiane Northrup and Andrew Weil. For that big heart of hers, she thanks her family, along with the women who inspire her every single day.

"I get tremendous satisfaction from helping a woman regain her health and vitality—this in turn helps her entire family...I believe the secret to my success is that I have created a center that helps thousands of suffering women to feel wonderful again."

Wise Woman Wellness is an innovative menopause and wellness center that brings the best of conventional and holistic treatment together. It's a place where women can go to seek learning, achieve balance, and sustain vital, sensual energy throughout midlife—all from a friendly, caring (menopause certified!) woman who understands the ebb and flow of womanhood.
